THE GRAHAM-CASSIDY HEALTH CARE BILL

Replaces current Obamacare funding with Block Grants

- Federal funding for Medicaid expansion would be eliminated and reallocated in the form of a lump sum that states could spend however they chose. This funding would expire in 2027. Massachusetts will lose $5 Billion in funding.
- Federal tax credits to low and middle-class Americans to offset the cost of their health insurance would expire in 2020, but states might choose to use a portion of their block grants to fund them.
- States would be allowed to apply for waivers that could change what qualifies as an essential health benefit. Waivers changing the status of what is — and isn't — an essential health benefit could also impact people with pre-existing conditions and undermine prohibitions on annual and lifetime limits for insurance coverage.
- States could now apply for waivers that let insurers charge different premiums based on age. Older consumers could be charged 3 times as much for health insurance
